Tamil Nadu has the second-largest State economy in the country, with strong and consistent economic growth averaging about 8.5% since fiscal year (FY) 2006. Women's contribution in the paid economy is significant – female labor force participation rate (FLFPR) in the state is higher than the average recorded for India. Women's entrepreneurial growth has the potential to be India's most powerful economic force. Tamil Nadu accounts for the highest number of women entrepreneur-owned establishments, which cover not only micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs).
